195.1	Chris Ryan	The District Council recognises the need for economic development in this part of the Waikato (Huntly area). It seeks to create assets for a hole in the ground that would otherwise have limited economic and social benefit for the Huntly community. The plans proposed by Allen Fabrics addresses any possible adverse effects such as traffic, signs etc. There are obvious deficiencies at this stage of the proposal in terms of detail as to the numbers of business operations such as cafes and specific locations of supporting infrastructure including entry and exit points to the lake, numbers and locations of car parking spaces etc. The requested zoning makes the future development easier, which would benefit the developers and the Waikato District Council. The conversion of past open cast mines into lakes used for recreation, leisure and tourism, and for environmental causes such as provision of nesting areas for waterfowl is common. e.g Oceana Gold has mooted it in other parts of New Zealand such as at Waihi. When developed as an integrated resource that can include hotel and conference facilities (along with water sports and recreation usage that can incorporate sporting competitions) significant economic benefits can occur. The geographical position of Huntly and the increasing ease of accessibility to the Auckland market are factors that could contribute to the eventual success of the project to the benefit of the Huntly community. The request for zoning classification being sought is mutually advantageous to three key stakeholders – Allen Fabrics, The Waikato District Council and the broader Huntly Community by facilitating future planning of the development.	Accept
